

reasons why unions matter...

1 Safety – Your life matters.

There are 50% fewer accidents in unionized workplaces. Union safety reps deal with issues ranging from dangerous equipment to stress and mental health to hazardous substances.

2 Economics – Financial stability matters.

On average, you will make 27% more doing the same job in a unionized work place.

3 Health Insurance – Your family matters.

Significantly more union members have employer-provided health insurance.

4 Retirement – Your golden years matter.

28% more union members have employer-provided retirement benefits.

5 Strength in Unity – Community matters.

Unity is Strength – unions provide workers with a powerful collective voice to strengthen our workplaces and communities.
